Glenn Smith, residing in the Fairview community on the Chillicothe road, this week gathered the second crop of Hale peaches from a tree at his home.

In July he gathered the first crop, about 1 1-2 bushels of choice peaches. At the time, he noticed a large number of smaller, green peaches on the tree, which he did not molest.

Last week he picked the second crop, also about 1 1-2 bushels, of good peaches, although they were not as large as those of the first crop. I am wondering if this has been duplicated anywhere, for it is decidedly unusual to gather two crops of peaches from the same tree in a single season.

S. C. Beasley, this city, who, with his grandson, Sam Marting, owns the famous Bea-Mar Hereford farm and fine herd of Herefords in the Glendon community, recently discovered that there was a very expensive groundhog or woodchuck on the farm.

It seems that a short time ago a tenant house on the farm along the Mark Road was remodeled and prepared for a tenant.

No one had been about the place for two weeks, and when they did visit the house, they were amazed to find a huge groundhog had taken possession, and had used his steel-like teeth in gnawing away about $30 worth of window frames in an effort to escape.

It seems the animal had entered the basement and then forced a trap-door to the main part of the house. Finding himself trapped, he climbed to the windows and proceeded to gnaw the frames until seven frames were ruined. It cost around $30 to replace them.

It is needless to say that the animal was killed to prevent it eating up another house.

W. L. O'Brien, chairman of the county Ration Board, just walked on down the street beaming with surprise and happiness. Here's the reason, in his own words:

"Boy, here's one for the book. We just got a letter down at the office from a woman thanking us for the way sugar rationing has been handled."

"When I read it I just said 'well now I've seen everything.' I think I might just as well throw my glasses away."

He was just too jubilant to elaborate. He didn't even say who wrote the letter or exactly what she said.

But, I guess that's understandable. The Ration Board and its personnel, most of whom serve without compensation as a patriotic service, has been the target of just about every human reaction to restrictions except deserved bouquets.

That is not to say, of course, that hundreds of people here did not appreciate what rationing has done for them during the emergencies created by war. They just didn't take the trouble to express their appreciation.

Not so with other hundreds. They lambasted the board freely and frequently, publicly, privately and face to face on the least provocation, real or imaginary.

No wonder the rationers are happy when they get a pat on the back. They deserve it.

He Had Been Filling Job Temporarily

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Municipal Court Prosecutor Glenn E. Detling has been named Clark County prosecutor by Common Pleas Judge Golden C. Davis.

The job was left vacant when Jerome A. Nevius was removed from office on a bribery conviction two months ago.

Attorney Robert S. Olinger, a Republican, whom Detling named as assistant, had been serving temporarily.

Detling, a Democrat and former Springfield High School teacher, will continue as part-time instructor in sociology at Wittenberg College.

FLORIDA LASHED
OVER WEEK END;
DAMAGE HEAVY

Storm Swings Over Atlantic
And Then Heads Back in Toward Carolinas

MIMAU, Fla., Sept. 17.—(AP)—The tropical storm that swept Southern Florida with an estimated $50,000,000 property damage has moved across the coast to South Carolina with the center near Parris Island, the U. S. Weather Bureau in Miami reported today.

The storm appeared to be losing fury as it headed north, and the Weather Bureau said hurricane warnings would be lowered at noon today south of Cape Matheras to Brunswick, Ga.

"Storm is now centered over land about 30 miles west of Charleston, S. C., moving almost due northward," the advisory said.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Atlanta said there was a strong likelihood the storm would spend itself in South Carolina and that the upper eastern coast would not be affected.

At its peak, the hurricane reached a velocity of 143 MPH in roaring across the Florida Keys at Key Largo, hit 99 MPH in Miami, took a toll of three known dead and wrecked or damaged thousands of homes.

Fire Adds to Loss
The great three-hanger Navy blimp base at Richmond, 30 miles from Miami, was destroyed when fire broke out during the height of the storm.

Little structural damage or citrus crop losses were reported from the devastated storm as it moved through central and northern Florida, but South Florida counted scores of injured, hundreds of homeless and damage in the millions.

Greatest damage was reckoned at the Richmond Naval Air Base south of Miami where three towering blimp hangers burned at the height of the storm, killing Harry M. Schultz, of Miami, civilian fire chief.

The Navy estimated between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 was lost in destruction of the hangers, and 366 planes and 25 blimps.

Fifty sailors were injured battling the blaze.

A furniture factory fire in Miami caused $150,000 damage.

A Honduran seaman drowned while attempting to rescue a dog washed aboard from a schooner blown ashore north of Miami Beach.

G. T. Chapin, superintendent, was electrocuted as he prepared the power plant at Kissimmee for the storm advancing toward the peninsula.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(AP)—A Weather Bureau advisory said the hurricane sweeping in over the Atlantic Coast will cause gales to day and tonight reaching 50 to 60 miles an hour from the Virginia Capes southward to Cape Hatteras, N. C.

The Bureau advanced its warnings to "whole gale" status for this section. It also extended the storm area northward to Block Island, R. I.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The government probably will decide this week whether to end meat rationing by October 1 or continue it longer.

OPA is receiving what officials describe as a "tremendous volume" of mail from people all over the country.

Most of the letters are from housewives. In general, OPA says, they want rationing continued.

Many fear they will have difficulty obtaining meat if controls are lifted. A number express this sentiment: let's continue rationing so we can send some meat to hungry people in liberated countries.

Britain Trying To Treat U. S.
'Sap' in Financial Matters—Congress Irked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Initial protests from two Republican congressmen against the British proposition for more money, are apt to be followed by an expanding run of bitter criticism. The British have monopolized press propaganda on the subject for two well-prepared months. A fair presentation of the facts has not been made to the public, largely because the American negotiators are following a silent, waiting policy. Yet the true circumstances are known in Congress, and they are so disturbing they have created a rather general impression that the current British government is audaciously imposing upon the intelligence, and helpful attitude of this nation, with preposterous propositions bordering on insult—or, as Mr. Knudsen, succinctly asked: "What kind of saps do they think we are?" A beneficial outcome has unquestionably been prejudiced by the British preliminary tactics. The facts are:

The British asked and have been promised cancellation of the $29,000,000,000 of lend-lease obligations, a sum which would have operated the high spending Roosevelt government for three peacetime years, without anyone paying a cent of taxes.

This is to be forgiven and forgotten. But the $15,000,000,000 which the British got from within the empire for war, under similar arrangements of lend-lease, is not to be forgiven or forgotten. Indeed, the only official inkling of what is to be done about this war

Japs Beheaded American Fliers
In Hong Kong, New Report Reveals

By The Associated Press.

Five Americans were killed simply because they were fliers, and three others were beheaded after they were marched through Japanese streets bearing signs "these are the American devils who bombed us," Maj. John A. Singlaub of Sherman Oaks, Calif., related at Hong Kong today.

An Australian army intelligence report issued at Melbourne said that of 3,550 British and Australian prisoners taken to Borneo, only six were known to be alive.

Last January, the Melbourne report said 203 prisoners died of 450 sent on a death march through the Borneo mountains. Another death march claimed 353 lives out of 536 men and the others died later or were killed.

At Darwin, Australia, Pvt. J. W. Larkin, gave new details of the abuse of Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, commander at the surrender of Corregidor, and Lt. Gen. Sir Arthur Percival, commander at the fall of Singapore.

(Wainwright has declined comment on beatings he and other high ranking Allied officers were said to have received.)

"All of them, including Wainwright and Percival, had to go on morning parade with the rest of the prisoners of war and were often struck by the inspecting sergeant major," said Larkin. He was liberated from a Formosa prison.

"The general had to stand at attention whenever a Jap passed, irrespective of his rank. One day, when Maj. Gen. Keys had charge of a working party consisting of generals only, he ordered them to stand at ease when a Jap private happened to be passing.

"The private walked up to Keys and slapped him on both cheeks. When Keys complained to the Jap commander he received a beating for his trouble."

At Sidney, Sgt. A. M. Blain, a member of Australia's house of representatives, charged "every Japanese guard is a war criminal (Please Turn to Page Six)

'GREAT GAMBLE'

GEN. M'ARTHUR

Jap Premier Resigns, More
War Criminals Nabbed and Another Slashes Throat

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—(AP)—History's greatest military gamble—the American landing in armed Japan—has paid off so handsomely that occupation forces probably will be cut to not more than 200,000 within six months, General MacArthur said today.

As a result of the successful penetration of this conquered nation, he added, troops will be returned home as rapidly as ships are available. Regular army forces, he said, probably will be able to maintain unaided the 200,000 man force—"which will permit complete demobilization of our citizen (draftee) Pacific forces."

"There was probably no greater gamble taken in history," his statement explained, "than the initial landings," where ground forces were outnumbered 1,000 to one by armed Japanese. But, he added, "the stakes were worth it."

Estimates Reduced

MacArthur's estimate of 200,000 occupation troops is just half the number Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, recently said would be necessary—and Eichelberger's figures were considered low. At the start, some 800,000 men—including air forces—were scheduled to participate.

Only Saturday, however, Eichelberger forecast the entire occupation might be "washed up" within a year if it continued as smoothly as it had started.

Questions involved in the strength of occupation forces, the supreme commander explained, are entirely independent of the future Japanese politico-government structure. This problem, he explained, is waiting completion of the military phase of the surrender—and unquestionably will be determined "upon the highest diplomatic level of the United Nations."

Naval Occupation

(Shanghai dispatches today said the swift, quiet expansion of American naval occupation along Shanghai's waterfront was expected by Wednesday.)

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters reported that roundup of the 46 war-crimes suspects wanted by MacArthur was proceeding smoothly—with the Japanese government making the arrests. Twenty-seven were in custody and two were dead by their own hands.

General MacArthur, from his new headquarters facing Japan's imperial palace, announced the 31st, 37th and 38th American divisions would go home soon from Manila. The supreme commander also disclosed he had protested strongly over Russia's mistaken destruction of a B-29 over Korea.

Premier Replaced

Well-informed Japanese sources reported that Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, chief signatory of Japan's surrender, resigned tonight and was succeeded by Shigeru Yoshida, former ambassador to London.

Yoshida, who lives in Oiso, was informed of his appointment by telephone and he accepted.

The same Japanese sources said Shigemitsu's resignation was requested by Premier Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni because "the first stage of the Allied occupation is concluded."

Shigemitsu had served in one of the wartime cabinets of Hideki Tojo and also in that of Kuniaki Koiso and was considered to be responsible for many of Tojo's China policies.

Modern Hari Kiri

The newspaper Asahi reported that Lt. Gen. Yoshio Shinotsuka, member of Japan's supreme war council, committed suicide early today by cutting his throat with a Samurai sword.

Shinotsuka formerly was president of the army officers' school, the "West Point" of Japan. He was a classmate of Hideki Tojo, the wartime dictator. (Please Turn to Page Two)

80,000 Auto Workers On Strike
As Pay Boost Showdown NearsWHOLE INDUSTRY

Ohio Labor Picture Begins
To Brighten at Akron

(By The Associated Press)

More than 80,000 workers were idle in the Detroit area today as the huge automotive industry and the powerful United Automobile Workers (CIO) Union headed for a showdown on the Union's demands for a general 30 per cent wage increase for the industry.

Strikes and layoffs idled 70,000 in Detroit and 10,000 in nearby Windsor, Ont., while UAW-CIO leaders went ahead with plans for possible strike votes affecting 500,000 throughout the nation's auto plants.

This was the situation regarding the "big three" of the auto world:

Ford—Representatives of Ford workers throughout the country were summoned to a Sept. 29-30 meeting here to decide whether to seek a strike vote. This action came as some 50,000 workers were idle in a company move which Henry Ford II, executive vice president, said was a result of "unauthorized and crippling strikes" against firms that supplied Ford with some parts.

General Motors—UAW officials awaited company reaction to official notification that the union would ask the National Labor Relations Board to conduct a strike vote at the firm's 135 plants if the corporation does not accept the wage increase over its 300,000 employees.

Chrysler—Union officials set Sept. 23 for balloting by the 80,000 to 100,000 employees as to whether they will petition the International UAW-CIO for a strike vote.

Although 15,000 CIO-United Rubber workers today discussed arrangements to return to work at the B. F. Goodrich Co.'s six Akron plants, nearly that many more (Please Turn to Page Six)

Berlin's Grave Diggers
Busy as Winter Nears

By E. D. BALL

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Berlin's grave-diggers are doubly busy. They are digging up and re-interring tens of thousands buried in hastily excavated, shallow graves in the last days of fighting for the city.

They are digging new graves in anticipation of this winter's deaths.

Squads of former Nazi party men were engaged in moving the stacked and decaying bodies of 850 SS (elite guard) men from pits in the garden of the Reich chancellery.

These were among thousands of bodies—perhaps 100,000—buried in emergency graves in greater Berlin's public parks, gardens and country yards when the Allies first entered.

Other thousands of bodies—some estimates go as high as 10,000—are yet to be recovered from the three-mile stretch of subway between the Stettiner and Anhalter stations flooded by the SS when those sheltered there begged for surrender to the Russians.

Preparations to bury those expected to succumb to this winter's cold have already begun.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The New York Times says today in a dispatch from Tokyo that the damaged 35,000-ton Japanese battleship Nagato, taken over by the U. S. Navy at the Yokosuka Naval Base, will be towed 500 miles to sea where an atomic bomb will be dropped on her in an experiment that may determine the future form of the world's navies.

After relating the Nagato had withstood an attack by 500 United States naval planes, the Times Dispatch continues with regard to the atomic experiment:

FORMER FAYETTE MAN SEATED AT PEACE TABLE

Lt. Col. Harold Hays Among U. S. Officers Giving Japs Peace Terms

At least one former Fayette County resident, Lt. Col. Harold Hays, sat at the peace table when the Japs were called in to sign surrender terms in the Philippine Islands.

Col. Hays, who was born on a farm in Northern Fayette County, graduated at Washington C. H. high school, and was prominent in Ohio National Guard circles, spent several years as superintendent of the O. S. and S. O. Home at Xenia, was superintendent of the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster when the war broke out, was prominent in Selective Service work for a short time, and then sent to the Pacific War zone where he had been stationed the past two years or more, and took an active part in the Philippine invasion.

Recently when the surrender of all the Jap forces in the Philippines took place, with General Yamashita (self-styled "tiger") Japs were called into a plain leading the surrender group, the room with a earthen floor, where a long wooden table was ready for the Jap delegation.

Along the tables at the side sat staff members of Gen. Robert S. Beightler, of Columbus.

Ohio officers included the famous General Beightler, Columbus; Col. Russell Ramsey, of Sandusky; Lt. Col. Harold Hays, and Lt. Col. Demas Sears, of Toledo.

Seventeen swordless Jap officers filed into the building and the formal surrender was soon completed. Only a few questions were asked by the Japs before signing the surrender terms.

Col. Hays is a brother of Emmitt Hays, this city, World War One veteran.

continued, "there are certain policies, certain safeguards, certain limitations we should observe in making further commitments."

"First, I should like to make a suggestion to dispose of the lend-lease and other war-period debts. . . . We should not cancel it now. We should instead propose a worldwide moratorium . . . and five years hence when the shape of the world is more clear we should join our Allies in . . . the disposition of such debts."

In his second point, Hoover urged caution in assuming further financial burdens until re-conversion progress is clear, and thirdly urged a study of existing assets of foreign countries before extending credit.

"Fourth," he said, "we cannot today afford having our resources used to keep up armies, to engage in non-productive enterprises, to pay debts to other countries, to subsidize social experiments to go into business abroad in competition with us, or to pay for propaganda to upset our government."

For his fifth point Hoover suggested an exchange of surpluses between nations, such as the American wheat surplus for British or Dutch rubber and tin. Sixthly, Hoover would reduce all loans or credits to terms of commodities to "assume the employment of our own people in the production of these commodities."

Seventh, resale by governments of commodities purchased in the United States "should be credited to our account" which can be used in the purchase of certain commodities "which can be shipped to us without disturbing the economic situation of either side."

Eighth, a reorganization of the world food and fuel program "which cries out for organization that would abolish its horrid inefficiency and power politics."

Ninth, an insistence that there be "no quotas against us, no discriminatory tariffs against us, no dumping of goods upon us, no cartel operations against us."

Hoover's tenth point would bar "propaganda against the American system of life," and eleventh, a re-consideration at the end of 10 years of all post-war credits with a view to preventing any "propaganda of hate against us for cancellation."

Twelfth and finally a regulation of foreign loans by private institutions so as to "prevent their (the loans) being applied to any other than directly reproductive enterprise. Otherwise American investors will not get their money back."

The South African Boers had a custom called the "gewapende protest" which is a method of warfare in which nobody gets killed. They declared war, went out on commando, but not to murder each other. Their "wars" were really demonstrations of force.

Timothy Grass was named for Timothy Hanson because he introduced it into the Carolinas.

debt within the empire is that it may be refunded, scaled down and paid. Not a move has been made, and today, it stands as a valid existing debt.

In short, she comes to us pleading her inability to pay us a single penny on the $29,000,000,000 she owes us, but makes no similar claim to India, Canada, Australia, and others of the empire who furnished her as much, and expect to get something back.

Only a feeble mind could be imposed upon to accept such a one-sided imposition on friendship. The American delegation will surely insist she set her house in order, and if we are to forgive her all her own people should also—and do it first.

But she comes to us for more money—$3,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 more money. She does not send to us officials of her new Socialist government, but two holdover representatives of her former Capitalist regime (Lord Keynes and Halifax). The mentor, brain trust, of her new government.

CITY WILL NOT HAVE TO CHANGE TIME THIS FALL

War Time To Be Abolished Throughout Nation on Last Day of Month

When "war time" or "fast time" is abolished throughout the nation on September 30, it will not affect the official time in Washington C. H., which has been observing eastern standard time since May 23, when an ordinance passed March 14 providing for war time until Sept. 30 was repealed, and eastern standard time (slow) was adopted.

The ordinance providing for fast time, adopted March 14, provided that fast time for the city offices and employees be effective until Sept. 30, when slow time would be observed once more.

When the ordinance was repealed May 23 it automatically left the city on eastern standard time or the regular time for this part of the nation, indefinitely.

This means that when regular time is restored it will be the same as now being observed here, except by a few firms who have observed fast or war time since it was placed in operation by the federal government as a wartime measure.

However one big change that will, in all probability, be made Sept. 30, is that all railroads and bus systems will return to regular time.

At present all railroads and bus lines are being operated on war time, or one hour faster than eastern standard time through this community.

This means a general revamping of all train schedules. Definite announcement is expected from the railroads and bus lines within a few days.

ment was at a labor party conference at Blackpool the day her delegates arrived here. He, Prof. Harold Laski, was quoted that day as telling his own people: "The age of Capitalism is drawing to a close."

Here they are seeking to draw $35,000,000,000 out of our capitalistic nation and telling us our way of life is dead. They want to scratch all Churchill got from us, and get more for themselves, through two representatives in no position to give valid endurance to promises, while their new regime stays home and says Capitalism is dead—and announces plans to kill it as far as the bank of England, mines, transportation, power and some other British industries are concerned.

Now we want to give them the money. We want to give it at an interest rate of 2.38 per cent (exactly what we pay our own people for the money) but Keynes and Halifax say this is not possible, as they could not afford to pay interest, or make a regular commercial loan, even if we wipe out the old debt, as we did the debt of the last war. But they do not intend to treat their own people so shabbily any more than they intend to treat their dominions that way. They expect to buy the mines, power plants, railroads and bank of England from their hated Capitalists with hard cash, issuing bonds to their people, bonds which they proudly proclaim will bear interest and be liquidated—paid off in full—in 20 years or so. Those bonds will pay twice as much interest as they cannot afford to pay us. Yet they shamefully claim they cannot meet the bare interest with out profit we are giving everyone else.

Their proposition thus fails down into its own absurdity. They cannot pay us! but they can pay their empire. In borrowing new money they cannot pay us interest; but they propose Socialism with big interests—and complete pay-off—to their people. They send us not their chancellor of exchequer and their planner, but two leftovers of the Churchill regime who cannot control future British fiscal policy, and had stood firmly for peace in the August 8 cabinet fight and finally won. He had opposed any conditions beyond retention of the emperor, in accepting Allied terms, he said.

The list of those in custody included one reported leader of the infamous Black Dragon Society—Col. Kingoro Hashimoto. Yoshihisa Kuzuu, who claimed he had been president of the terrorist society since 1938, was expected to be picked up soon. Mutual Broadcasting System Correspondent Jack Mahon said he had talked with Kuzuu and was convinced the Black Dragon still was functioning in secret.

The Nippon Times yesterday printed detailed accounts of the Japanese mistreatment of American prisoners, and said today the Japanese who have just been informed of the mistreatment must shiver with shame. It urged stern punishment. The newspaper also predicted Japanese women would soon participate in politics.

MacArthur's headquarters ordered the Japanese to impound the assets of former enemy nations and to preserve in good condition those of the United States.

Philippines President Sergio Osmena—himself accused by one political opponent of indirectly profiting from his son's alleged collaboration with Japan—said today he intended to expedite trials of accused collaborators.

Formation of a people's court will be speeded up and "vigorous" prosecution assured, he said.

There have been delays and accusations of leniency, and U. S. Secretary of Interior Ickes last week warned that unless prosecution was hastened there might be no American financial aid to the war-smashed islands.

WORLD TODAY

—By DEWITT MACKENZIE—

America's proposal, now before the Big Five Council of Foreign Ministers in London, that Italy's colonies be placed under international trusteeship of the United Nations looks like a master stroke in the interests of world peace.

The Mediterranean theater is one of the most important zones strategically in the face of the globe. Throughout the centuries the nation or alliance which has had the upper hand in the Mediterranean also has had a mighty grip on Europe. The blue waters of this great sea have contained the elements of both peace and war—to be conjured up to suit the desire of the power in control. That is as true today as it was before the Hitlerian conflict produced epochal changes.

Thus, if the Allies now can insure that this great water highway is bordered by territories pledged to peace, one of the worst danger spots will have been removed from the eastern hemisphere. It will be hard on Italy to lose her African possessions and the Dodecanese Islands, but she certainly can be surprised if that's the price she is made to pay for Mussolini's gamble with the devil.

We may never know exactly what Il Duce's ambition aimed at, but even before he made his pact with Nazism there were indications that he was reaching for control of the Mediterranean—Mare Nostrum. We see that in his development of Libya, his wicked conquest of Little Ethiopia and his assistance to Generalissimo Franco in the Spanish Civil War.

Anyhow, now is the time for the peace-seeking United Nations to erect their safeguards against any future Mussolini. So it is encouraging to see the proposition of international trusteeship being considered by the Big Five Council.

This is of course a matter of moment to Britain, since the Mediterranean highway is an essential link in her chain of empire. It's the shortcut to her Far Eastern possessions and dominions via the Suez Canal. It gives her quick access to the near East—and don't forget that this means oil. These facts explain why England has maintained her famous naval base at Gibraltar, and the powerful air and naval base at Malta, and why she has strong land, air and naval forces based on Egypt by treaty arrangement. The big island of Cyprus, Palestine and Iraq also fall within her sphere of control.

However, there has been no public indication that Britain wouldn't welcome the trusteeship arrangement. It would, to be sure, mean a readjustment of the influence she has wielded in the Mediterranean heretofore, but it would give her the security she desires.

There has been talk that Egypt might ask for eastern Libya, which isn't surprising since I learned in Cairo in 1942 that Egypt was going after this territory. Whether an Egyptian trusteeship of this area would fit into the United Nations plan remains to be seen.

Certainly Libya should be under United Nations control, especially the eastern section where lies the famous port of Tobruk. Tobruk harbor is small, but it's the best natural harbor on the north coast of Africa.

That's half the story. The other half is in the big island of Crete, which lies some 200 miles north of Tobruk. These two positions "straddle" the main sea lane where the Mediterranean narrows—that is, they dominate it militarily. They must be under United Nations control.

There's one other issue likely to be raised in connection with Libya. Native leaders told me that they were seeking their independence and hoped to make the power

DISPOSAL PLANT COSTS INCREASE DUE TO LEAKS

Engineers Seek Permission To Proceed on Plans For Addition

In a lengthy letter to City Manager W. L. Stambaugh, Paul A. Uhlmann and Associates of Columbus point out that ground water entering the interceptor sewer has doubled cost of pumpage at the sewerage disposal plant here resulting in further pollution of Paint Creek.

At the same time Uhlmann asks city council for permission to proceed with plans, interrupted by the war, for building a supplementary plant and revamp the sewage system of the city.

His letter follows: "Supplementing the various statements made by Myron T. Jones at your last council meeting, we want to give you the following information.

"During the last year, an excessive amount of ground water is continuously conveyed to your sewerage treatment plant. This flow is more than twice the flow in former years with the result that the costs of pumping sewage have been doubled and the sewage has been diluted to a point where no sludge gas is being developed and therefore no power can be recovered for the pumping of the sewage.

"Our duty as technical supervisors is to advise the operator in the operation of the plant and keep in close contact with the operation. We also have to point out signs of approaching troubles and try to avert them. These services do not include comprehensive investigations of the sewerage systems but are restricted to the sewage treatment plant and its operation.

"As the increase in sewage flow appears to be of continuous character and not caused by storm flows, it will be in the interest of the city to find the real cause of this increased flow and reduce the excessive pumping costs to the normal rate.

"In regard to the sewage treatment plant, we would like to point out that some steps may have to be considered toward the completion of the construction drawings for the secondary treatment units in order to take advantage of possible federal assistance and avoid lawsuits for pollution of the stream.

"In the following, a brief review of the status of the project is covering the most important points:

"1. February 13, 1942. Agreement signed with the City of Washington, to furnish complete detail drawings for the proposed improvements at the sewage treatment plant.

"2. March 10, 1942. Project approved in Presidential letter F-261. Federal funds allotted: $103,853.

"3. March 25, 1942. Detailed drawings submitted to State Department of Health for first stage of improvement.

"4. May 5, 1942. Approval of first stage improvements by State Department of Health.

"Although WPA was anxious to start the improvements and the City was ready to advertise for bids on materials, the project was stopped when a letter from the War Production Board advised the city officials to defer the project to a later date for patriotic reasons.

"In view of this and in spite of the fact that we were working on the balance of the required detail drawings as per agreement of February 13, we believe it advisable to discontinue the preparation of the design drawings.

"Therefore, we suggested to the city officials a hiatus in the design of the project that is to wait until we would definitely know under what federal program the project

TIRE RATIONING END NOT SEEN VERY SOON

Quick Termination Rumors Are Not True

Any reports you may have heard saying that tire rationing will end by the first of October are just rumors and nothing more, rationing officials here said today.

"Information from the national office at Washington and the regional office at Cleveland indicates this definitely is not so," it was said here.

According to M. J. Henderson, regional tire rationing representative, it even has been necessary for the national office to wire directly to various members of the trade involved stating that tires will continue to be rationed for an indefinite period.

Rationing of tires should remain only so long as the difference between supply and demand makes orderly distribution without rationing impossible, the War Production Board and an OPA spokesman recently told the Rubber Industry Advisory Committee. Truck tires probably will be removed from rationing before passenger car tires and new cars will be supplied with only four tires as long as tires still are needed for rolling wheels now on the road, the WPB said.

"The only prediction we can make today is that it looks like tires will have to be rationed for several months yet," it was said.

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE OF PROPHECY INTERNATIONAL BIBLE BROADCAST

Question—Is conversion just a preacher's idea, or does the Bible teach it?

Answer—The Bible teaches it. "Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord." Acts 3:19.

Q—Does the world belong to God, man, or the devil?

A—"The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein." Psalm 24:1.

Q—Where is that text which speaks of the land "where the lion roareth and the dragon mourneth for its firstborn?"

FLY FREE DATE OBSERVANCE IS VERY IMPORTANT

‘Early Birds’ and Combining Wheat Blamed for Hessian Fly Increase

Farmers throughout this community will probably think twice before they disregard the Hessian fly, due to the damage that has been inflicted on wheat where the date has been disregarded.

T. H. Parks, extension entomologist of the state agricultural department, has issued the following statement to county agents, one of which was received by W. W. Montgomery, agricultural agent for Fayette County:

“Hessian fly is on the up-grade in Ohio, particularly in the southwest quarter of the state. This statement is based on evidence collected during the course of the annual wheat insect survey made by Ohio entomologists.

“Last year 3 percent of the Ohio wheat straws was infested, while this year the average is 8.4 percent. The infestation in each county surveyed is shown in the table enclosed herewith. If your county was not surveyed you can take one of the nearest counties as an approximate guide.

“The safe-sowing date for Fayette County is October 2.

“When we find that Hessian fly is definitely on the increase as it is this year, it is desirable to stress rather forcibly cooperative observance of sowing dates.

“A few farmers in a community can interfere with the control of the Hessian fly by sowing too early. Another factor that has been responsible for fly increase is the general use of combines with resultant shattering of grain that occurs during the harvest operations.

“Late summer and early fall rains cause this grain to grow and become infested, thus carrying over a fall brood in the old stubble fields.

“The flies emerge from this volunteer wheat the following spring to infest wheat sowed after the proper seeding dates. While stubble fields may be responsible for keeping this problem alive, we have yet to find that they interfere to the extent of causing very serious yield losses. County agents in southwestern Ohio should make particular effort to prevent wheat from being seeded before the safe-sowing date.”

The chart enclosed in the communication to Montgomery does not show infestation in Fayette County in 1945, but Highland had 22 percent; Madison, 11 and Pickaway, 19.

SOLICITING IN CITY LEADS TO QUICK WARNING

Particular Warning Is Issued Against Magazine Solicitors

Several magazine solicitors, working the same old plan of appeal to public sympathy in order to obtain subscriptions, were chased out of the city a few days ago, as such soliciting is banned under ordinance.

In connection with the affair, Chief of Police Vaiden Long issued a general warning to the public to beware of such solicitors.

In Columbus the Better Business Bureau has issued a similar warning, urging the public to beware of magazine solicitors who are using a variety of appeals to gain sympathy.

Girls claiming to be working on a contest to win money for becoming government nurses, and boys seeking “points” to win a prize to permit them to take flying lessons, are included in the list. Several crews of men representing themselves to be veterans have suggested money be given to send magazines to veterans’ hospitals. Careful investigation is asked by the Better Business Bureau before giving money to anyone.

The Veterans Administration in Washington has publicly denounced magazine salesmen posing as veterans to gain sympathy in efforts to sell magazines.

Hurry Up, Purchasers Are Requested Now

So far, 1,375 motorists have purchased their 1946 driver’s licenses since they went on sale last Monday.

At the same time, motorists were urged to get their licenses before the last minute rush, automobile club representatives said today. Sales close October 1 and old licenses expire April 1.

The rush at the Fayette County Automobile Club has not been serious, it was said Monday morning. At the same time, the request for early purchase of the licenses was emphasized.

Besides the regular driver’s licenses, 30 temporary permits and 100 chauffeur’s licenses have been sold so far. No comparable figures for last year’s sales were available.

HOME NURSING REGISTRATIONS ARE OPEN NOW

Miss Gretchen Darlington To Be Instructor for New Class

A Red Cross home nursing class, scheduled to begin around October 1, is open for registrations now, Miss Mary Robinson, home service secretary, said today.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, public health nurse, will be the instructor for the class. She is a graduate of Good Hope High School and received her nurse’s training at White Cross Hospital, Columbus, and at the University of Michigan. She has had several years experience in private nursing and in public health work in Marion and Crawford counties.

Reservations for places in the class, which will have a limited registration, may be made by calling Red Cross headquarters at 22401.

Doctors and nurses continue to be scarce these days but there is no reason to be alarmed if you are prepared, Miss Robinson said. “When sickness strikes, someone in every home should know what to do—whether it is really necessary to call the doctor and if it is, how to save his time and effort,” she added.

Some of the things gained in a home nursing course are learning to recognize signs of illness, carrying out the doctor’s instructions; learning how to care for mothers and new babies; learning how to keep a patient comfortable 24 hours; protecting the health of other members of the family while caring for a patient with a communicable disease and keeping oneself and one’s family well.

Lighting Research is “MOVING the SUN”
HOW many times have you wished you could move your kitchen out into the sun-dappled cool of a summer morning?
That’s one of the things Lighting Research is planning for you. With only this difference: instead of moving your kitchen outdoors, you can “move the sun” into your kitchen. You’ll enjoy lighting that doesn’t just compete with darkness, but actually compares with real sunshine! Light that is properly controlled and available night or day, summer or winter. For example:
★ Softer, more abundant light for easier seeing.
★ Ultraviolet for essential Vitamin D.
★ Short-wave ultraviolet that kills germs.
★ Soothing, penetrating heat.
All of these benefits of sunshine and more will be ready for you soon. So why not begin now to plan the lighting for your home of tomorrow. Any home, old or new, can have indoor sunshine.
